Looks good to me, but I'll defer to Jae if he has any suggested corrections/additions. And yes, Jae talked to Tracy Atagi

Hi Mary—

After meeting with you and Jae, this is what I think I heard as the status of the Tradebe review as of today:

- We got a CBI response to our request for information from Tradebe, early last week;
- Jae and Mike V. preliminarily reviewed the information and realized the company did not fully respond, so a clarifying email went out toward the end of last week
- Jae will call the company to ask that the additional info be provided by COB Friday
- The info largely quantifies what goes in and what comes out, which will have bearing on the amount of solvent recovered versus the amount of waste generated, etc.
- Jae has reread the court opinion on the Rienco case, and needs to discuss this along with his preliminary opinion with Kevin Chow;
- Jae has discussed an issue with ORCR (Traci Atagi?) dealing with the interpretation that all waste streams must yield some product.
- We will have a meeting next week to brief me on the progress and the issues.

Please feel free to correct/add
